Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Brown Alumni Monthly, Vol. 43: Commencement on a War Basis I began to wonder, he said, if after all we were not at war with Britain and the President of the United States. He attacked those who sulked behind the protecting armor of the Bill of Rights. But on traveling throughout the country Reynolds found the people of our country were mad, and an angry democracy has never been beaten. This is a people s war, and the people will either win or lose it. It t too important a war to be fought by generals. We should thank the Japs for reminding us, too, that it is our war. We have a long way to go because we are amateurs in this business of murder. But out of the burning fires of war will emerge a new world in which free men can live without fear. It is for this we fight. Stalin, he said, was the greatest realist of our times, and we should take council with him in working out that peace....
