'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that Saint Nicholas soon would be there. When Clement Clarke Moore penned these words, he created what is arguably the best-known verse ever written by an American. A Visit from Saint Nicholas, which later became famous as 'Twas the Night Before Christmas, is now part and parcel of the yuletide tradition.
